Prof Jonathan Jansen

I cannot think of a more exciting time in the life of a student than the first years of a university experience. I can also not imagine a better place to pursue your dreams of higher education than at the UFS. I therefore take this opportunity to welcome you warmly to this great university in a historical city situated in the heart of South Africa. The best years of your life are about to begin.

The University of the Free State offers you three things. Firstly, we offer you the best training in your field anywhere in the country. Whether you intend to be a teacher or an actuarial scientist, a medical doctor or a social worker, at the UFS you will be taught by the best professors who are determined that you should be competent as a professional to do your work. Secondly, we offer you the leadership qualities that should distinguish any graduate of this university. It is not enough that you are skilled to do your work; you should also stand out among your peers as a leader who has the confidence, courage and compassion to lead in the community or in the workplace.

MESSAGE FROM THE VICE-CHANCELLOR AND RECTOR

A student of the University of the Free State is called a Kovsie, and you study at Kovsies. This affectionate name reflects the long history of our institution when it started more than 100 years ago. We have created many proud traditions over these many years, and one of them is that we treat our students well.

Thirdly, we offer you the kind of training and support that enables you to compete for work anywhere in the world. It is not enough that you can find a job in South Africa; in a fast-moving and global world, you should be comfortable and competent to work anywhere on the planet.

How then would you recognise a graduate from the University of the Free State among her or his peers from other institutions of higher learning? A UFS graduate will be technologically connected to knowledge through the best available computer networks. A UFS graduate will thrive on the company of students from different countries, speak different languages, and embrace different cultures. A UFS graduate will know more than what she or he is taught in the classroom by being well-educated and well-rounded in preparation for life. A UFS graduate will be marked by openness to new ideas and being constantly on the lookout for novel ways of doing things. A UFS graduate will be compassionate towards those who have less, those with disabilities, and those who are frail. A UFS graduate will be well-balanced, with interests in sports, culture, arts and drama – not only academic interests.

This university is about students, and I will be actively involved in your academic lives. I have a tradition that students can see me without appointment every morning.

I will continue to visit you in classes, in residence halls, and in recreational spaces on campus. I will attend student events such as rugby, soccer and netball, and join you in prayer in your places of worship. Our student services will be attuned to the needs of students, and we will not only teach you but support you, promote you, and direct you during your years of study at this great university.

The University of the Free State is home to not only a long list of sport achievements and champions such as the 2015 Champions of the Varsity Cup and Wayde van Niekerk, but is also exceptionally proud of the 2014 Miss World, Rolene Strauss, a fourth-year MBChB student in the School of Medicine. Rolene represents the best of South Africa – a deep commitment to education and a profound compassion for human beings. I encourage you to follow in the footsteps and example of our legends and champions and make use of every opportunity to become the best person you can possibly be.

With these words,
welcome to Kovsies!

BLOEMFONTEIN, THE HEART OF THE FREE STATE

Bloemfontein, the home of the University of the Free State, is the sixth-largest city in South Africa and situated in Mangaung, Free State, which covers about 6 300 km² with approximately 850 000 inhabitants. The citizens of this city are renowned for their generosity and make the Free State's capital a very special place.

Bloemfontein is officially known as the Judicial Capital of South Africa, but over the years many names have been attributed to the city. The best-known name is 'central city', followed by the 'City of Roses' because of the abundance of beautiful roses in the municipal and residential gardens. The natural, architectural and historical legacy of central South Africa is interwoven inside this modern, developing city.

The pride of Bloemfontein is, however, its friendly and hospitable people. The citizens enjoy strong family networks. This results in a peaceful atmosphere, distinctive to the heart of the Free State. Today this vibrant city, with the heart, caring character and tranquillity of a big town, is the economic, educational and medical-care hub for a vast inland area in South Africa.

Through its connection to our university, the provincial health facilities are characterised by sophisticated technologies and dedication that ensures an enjoyable patient experience. High standards of excellence resulted in the Universitas Hospital being not only a training centre, but also a research base for the Faculty of Health Sciences at the university.

Besides an active theatre, there are many clubs, restaurants, coffee bars and other spots for students to hang out and who wish to enjoy the nightlife of this city.

The city's excellent Highveld weather and good sports facilities are the best testimonial for sport and outdoor enthusiasts. Bloemfontein is a national centre of excellence where different sporting codes use the state-of-the-art facilities of the Sport Science Institute in preparation for elite events such as the Olympic Games, Commonwealth Games, World Championships and the All Africa Games. Some of the facilities include a boxing academy, athletics track, Olympic-size swimming pool, AstroTurf hockey fields and accommodation.

Many surprises await the newcomer visiting Bloemfontein, including art and music, culture and history, and all kinds of major sports. The annual entertainment calendar includes Macufe and the Free State Arts Festival, a veritable melting pot where a rich diversity of art and culture comes together. The South African War Museum, the National Museum and the Women's Memorial are prominent sites for teaching, research and memory work.

For those interested in Astronomy, the new Naval Hill Planetarium and Boyden Observatory are used regularly by students and tourists alike. Bloemfontein hosts in fact the first digital planetarium in Africa, a model partnership between the city, the government and the University of the Free State.

We trust that our affordable city with its fascinating mix of diversity and tradition will enchant you as a student of the University of the Free State.

THE UNIVERSITY OF THE FREE STATE | THE CAMPUS OF CHAMPIONS

BLOEMFONTEIN CAMPUS

The Bloemfontein Campus dates back to 1904, making our university one of the oldest higher education institutions in the country.

The Main Building, and other buildings of historic and architectural import, portray the calm though vibrant atmosphere appropriate to an academic institution of more than 111 years.

It is a vast campus where staff and students are encouraged to walk in order to enjoy the beautiful buildings, parks, lawns, artwork and other facilities. Every effort has been made to make the campus user- and experience-friendly, including Braille-guided areas for blind students, and additional ramps and elevators for students with disabilities.

When on campus, stop and rest under one of the shady trees. You will find that many of the benches represent an artwork by a famous South African artist. Walk through the Thakaneng Bridge and Student Centre where you will find everything from eating facilities to shops selling the latest academic textbooks.

Our Bloemfontein Campus is immaculately maintained and provides a safe and secure environment for our more than 33 000 students who study here. Through an active programme of sports, cultural and social events, our students are also given the opportunity to develop into competent and compassionate future leaders.

Student accommodation is very popular and our residences are within walking distance of all facilities. Our Bloemfontein Campus is regarded as one of the most integrated campuses in South Africa with a very diverse group of students.

The campus is situated on one of the main roads through Bloemfontein, Nelson Mandela Drive, and is within walking distance of shopping centres, schools and other places of interest.

A full range of undergraduate and postgraduate degrees, diplomas and certificates are offered in seven faculties. A total of 2 900 staff members are working on all three campuses.

Our seven faculties of academic excellence are:

- Economic and Management Sciences
- Education
- Health Sciences
- Humanities
- Law
- Natural and Agricultural Sciences
- Theology

SOUTH CAMPUS

Nestled in the hills overlooking the vibrant township of Mangaung in Bloemfontein, lies the University of the Free State's South Campus.

The facilities include an impressive administration building, a library, lecture rooms and an auditorium, which can accommodate up to 4 000 people, and brand new student accommodation.

The South Campus plays a meaningful role in the economy of the region and the upliftment of its people, as well as being the hub for distance learning programmes offered by the UFS. The South Campus provides a base for the more than 6 000 students who are studying via distance education. These students are not able to study on campus due to geographical or economic reasons, or they might work full-time and have to complete their degrees, diplomas or certificates on a part-time basis. Distance education takes place online and through broadcasting mediums.

One of the other main roles of the campus is to widen and open up access pathways at Further Education and Training (FET) and higher education levels.

QWAQWA CAMPUS

Our Qwaqwa Campus offers a student life experience which includes many of the highlights of student life at our other campuses, but also provides unique experiences possible only with this student community. Being a smaller campus, students experience a greater sense of community and you will be able to establish and build meaningful friendships more easily.

Student life here grows daily with such new initiatives as the recent establishment of the debating and United Nations student associations on campus. Apart from the local rollout of the GATEWAY First-years' College and Rag Festival, you can also look forward to leadership development events offered at some of the best adventure locations available in the country.

Many opportunities are available to participate as a volunteer in community service programmes and as a leader in a number of student associations and residences on campus. Strong religious, arts and culture student associations allow you to participate in a number of specialist choirs that perform on campus but also elsewhere. New sport and recreational facilities on campus allow you to participate actively in student sport.

You will be able to participate and compete in a number of sporting codes at the newly established annual intra-varsity games between campuses of the university. Students who perform well in general student life and their studies also compete for a number of prizes at the annual Student Excellence Awards hosted at the campus.

ADMISSION

There are specific admission requirements applicable to all South African universities that are stipulated by Higher Education South Africa (HESA). In most cases, an admission point (AP) of 30 is sufficient, but there are exceptions where a higher point is required or where a lower point is acceptable. All learners who completed their school career in or after 2008 and acquired a National Senior Certificate (NSC), should calculate admission points as follows:

Four of the seven subjects included in your NSC subject package must form part of the 'designated' subjects listed below. You are required to obtain a minimum of 4 (50%) in each of these four (4) school subjects to qualify for admission to a Bachelor's Degree or to apply to study at any South African university:

'Designated list' of school subjects:

Accounting	Information Technology
Agricultural Sciences	Life Sciences (Biology/Physiology)
Business Studies	Mathematics or Mathematical Literacy
Consumer Studies	Music
Dramatic Arts	Three languages (one of these must be the language of teaching and learning at a higher education institution and two other recognised language subjects)
Economics
Engineering Graphics and Design
Geography	Physical Sciences/Natural Science
History	Religion Studies
	Visual Arts

WHAT DO YOU NEED TO STUDY AT THE UNIVERSITY OF THE FREE STATE?

In addition, for degree studies, the University of the Free State expects that:

- You have an overall AP of 30 and a minimum achievement level of 4 (50%) in the chosen UFS language of instruction: (kindly note that certain programmes require a higher AP or achievement level); and
- You must pass certain school subjects with a minimum level of achievement in order to take a specific university module. For example, you must get a mark of 70% for Mathematics in Grade 12 if you are planning to study BSc (Physics with Engineering Subjects) and take Mathematics as one of the modules in a Bachelor of Science (BSc) study path; and
- For certain selected programmes, e.g. BSc (Actuarial Science), you must have an overall AP of 34 (see faculty-specific admission requirements).

Example:

In five (5) academic subjects you need an achievement level of at least 5 (60%)	5 x 5	= 25
In one (1) further academic subject you need an achievement level of at least 4 (50%)	1 x 4	= 4
In Life Orientation you need an achievement level of 5 (60%) or higher to score 1 point	1 x 1	= 1
UFS overall AP score		= 30

COMPULSORY NATIONAL BENCHMARK TESTS (NBTs)

What are the NBTs?

The National Benchmark Test is a national initiative of Higher Education South Africa (HESA). The NBTs are used by several South African universities as part of their student placement processes. There are two tests of three hours duration each. The first test is the Academic and Quantitative Literacy Test (AQL) and the second is the Mathematics Test (MAT).

Is it compulsory to take the test? Who must write the tests?

Yes, taking the NBTs is compulsory for all first time entry undergraduate applicants to the University of the Free State. Prospective students must write the NBTs prior to registering at the university. ALL prospective students must write the AQL test. Students applying to the Faculty of Economic and Management Sciences, the Faculty of Natural and Agricultural Sciences, or the Faculty of Health Sciences are required to write both the AQL and MAT tests.

Why write the NBTs?

The academic reading and writing demands at university differ from those at school level and the development of academic reading and writing competence is a critical part of a university education. The UFS regards the quality of teaching and learning as a top priority and is dedicated to helping students to perform well academically. In order to manage this process, the UFS must have accurate information on a student's academic literacy, quantitative literacy and mathematics proficiency. The NBTs provide a measure of student competences in these areas and assist the UFS in placing students into the most appropriate modules and programmes during the first year.

How, when and where to write?

The NBTs should be written in your Grade 12 year before registering at the university. To register for the NBTs, visit www.nbt.ac.za. Venues are available countrywide. If you apply to more than one university, you only need to write the NBTs once. The UFS will not accept the results of other admission tests that have been written internally for other universities. Only the NBTs are accepted.

How does the UFS make use of the NBT results?

The NBTs are used as part of the selection process for the Faculty of Health Sciences (School of Medicine and School of Allied Health Professions). For students applying to all our other faculties (including Nursing), NBT results are used during the registration process, but not for admission decisions. NBT performance levels are used to place first-year students into appropriate programmes or modules. Students who did not perform at the required proficiency level in the NBT Academic Literacy Test and plan to study in English must register for an academic literacy development module in English, namely one of the following module codes: EALH/EALE/EALN/EALL 1508.

The aim of the academic literacy development course is to introduce students to the reading and writing skills required at university. These are not English language courses; they are academic literacy courses. This kind of reading and writing is not taught at school level, and the courses will teach students how to study, write and read in an academic environment. Therefore the EALH/EALE/EALN/EALL 1508 course aims to provide students with the skills and confidence to read an academic text efficiently and critically, and to extract the main ideas and key details so that students can adequately demonstrate this knowledge in tests and examinations. The course also develops the ability of students to write essays and assignments. The learning content falls within the student's learning area.

For more information, visit www.ufs.ac.za/nbt or www.nbt.ac.za. Contact Lerato Masisi on +27 51 401 2448 or nbt@ufs.ac.za or masisilc@ufs.ac.za or visit Benito Khotseng Building, Room LG5. Prospective students applying for a programme in the Faculty of Health Sciences must please contact Anandi Mynardt at +27 51 401 7517 or mynardta@ufs.ac.za.

NB: If you have not yet written the NBTs, please register to write as soon as possible.

UFS101

Since 2012, the University of the Free State offers a newly designed core curriculum module, UFS101, which has specially been developed as an exciting learning experience for mainstream first-year students.

The aim of UFS101 is to create a new kind of Kopsie graduate who will stand out among South African graduates. In this module you will learn how to look at local and global challenges from different perspectives and engage critically with the newest thinking nationally and internationally in fields such as nanotechnology, law and history, to name only a few. You will also learn more about yourself and confront the boundaries in your thinking. The module will be presented by leading experts and lecturers in each respective field.

In addition to the above-mentioned skills, UFS101 prepares students who wish to apply to participate in initiatives such as the Leadership for Change Programme and the Stanford University Sophomore College Programme.

UFS101 is presented during the first and second semester. According to the rules of the university, UFS101 is a compulsory 16-credit module for all mainstream students registering for a first degree or diploma qualification. Please contact ufs101@ufs.ac.za for more information.

Interruption of studies

In order to qualify for an academic merit bursary, a student must again register at the University as a student. If there is an interruption of more than 5 years between the last examination, matriculation or university and the year in which the bursary must be awarded, the student does not qualify for a bursary.

STUDENT ACCOMMODATION

Application for residence

To be one of the residents you need to:

- Complete the application form for admission as well as the application form for residence as soon as possible.
- Ensure that the forms are completed correctly in order to avoid delays.
- Keep your reservation deposit ready in case you are selected for placement in a residence (refer to the placement procedure on the application form).
- Take note of the academic admission criteria for residences. Make sure that your admission point meets the criteria.
- Indicate your involvement/achievement in leadership, culture and sport.

Placement policy

It is very important to take note of the following academic requirements for junior residences on the main campus:

- A minimum Grade 12 admission point of 30 is required for admission to a residence.
- The academic merit of an applicant is determined based on the most recent admission point as calculated by the university (whether Grade 11 or Grade 12 point).
- If a student was admitted to a residence based on the Grade 11 point and the Grade 12 point is less than 30, the student’s admission to a residence will be cancelled.
- An applicant with an admission point of less than 30 can apply for residence accommodation. Should the final Grade 12 admission point be 30 or more, the applicant will qualify for admission to a residence.
- Students in the University Preparation Programme (UPP) will qualify for admission to a residence if they obtain a 100% pass rate in all their modules.
- A student who was registered at the UFS or another tertiary institution for the second or subsequent years must already have passed at least 120 credits in order to qualify for admission to a residence. Current first-year students will qualify for admission to a residence based on their Grade 12 admission point.

General admission requirements:

- In order to place balanced students in residences, the highest level of achievement in respect of leadership, culture and sport is taken into account and calculated as follows:
 - School level = 4 points
 - Provincial = 8 points
 - National = 12 points
 - International = 16 points
- The application point is calculated by obtaining the sum total of the admission point (weighted at 2/3) and general admission point (weighted at 1/3).

Residence Accommodation: Junior/Senior Residences

The agreement for accommodation entered into with a student will, subject to other stipulations or regulations as approved by the Council from time to time, be binding for the full accommodation period. The student or his/her parent/guardian or both are responsible for the full accommodation fee for the accommodation period as set out here.

Accommodation at Kovensies is your second home and life in a student residence at the UFS can be a very exciting and rewarding experience. If you are accepted into one of our residences, you will benefit from a completely new world of friendships that can last for the rest of your life. At the residences of the UFS you can grow as a person. At the university there are many people from different language, racial and cultural backgrounds. Living and learning in this diverse environment can give you a definite advantage over many other jobseekers once you graduate and will definitely help you later in life.

Due to the popularity of our residences, there is a waiting list of applicants so you should apply as early as possible if you want to secure a place.

The leadership of residence communities consists of a Residence Head, Prime, Residence Committee and Peer Mentors. This leadership team creates a residence environment where every student feels welcome and inspired. All residences' communities are driven by a set of shared values, which mediates a culture of mutual accountability.

First-year students are supported in their transition to higher education by means of a Peer Mentor system in residences. Each first-year student is allocated to a Peer Mentor who facilitates individual conversation as well as conversations in small group format with students.

Rooms are furnished with the basics. You may bring your own curtains and linen. We recommend extra blankets for winter.

We recommend you bring the following items:

- Two padlocks for cupboards.
- Toiletries.
- Reading or desk lamp.
- Radio.
- Students may bring frying pans or two-plate stoves for preparing food, but may not use these in their rooms. These appliances may only be used in the communal kitchens. If they are to prepare their own meals, students should also bring crockery and cutlery.
- For a minimal fee, students may install refrigerators in their rooms. You may also use a microwave oven, and personal computer in your room.
- You may not bring your own furniture or heater.
- Every residence is equipped with industrial washing machines and tumble-driers. Students are requested to use this equipment with care. You need to bring your own iron, washing powder, laundry bag, clothes pegs, etc.
- A laundry service is also available at an affordable tariff. Contact Kovensie Laundry Service, +27 51 444 6348 or +27 51 401 3214/082 829 6487.
- In addition to clothes for everyday wear, bring outfits for social occasions, church and any sports in which you are planning to participate. Men should bring a sports jacket and tie. A tracksuit and running shoes are recommended, and an overall or old clothes for dirty work during Rag Week (painting, float building).

No equipment or furniture may be removed from the residence or rooms.

Day residences

A day residence is a residence that consists of students who live in private homes, student houses, townhouses, flats, rooms, etc. off the campus. The students who are members of the day residences must arrange their own accommodation off campus.

Students who live off campus are free to decide whether they want to join one of the day residences. Each day residence has a gazellie (or a large lounge with a kitchen and bathroom) on the campus where the 'residents' get together to hold residence meetings, to study or just to socialise.

The purpose of a day residence is also to give the students who do not live in a residence on campus the opportunity to participate in organised student activities. It is of great importance to the university to give these students the opportunity to develop as total or balanced persons through participation in academic and non-academic activities.

A residence head and a residence committee are in charge of each day residence. These people are responsible for managing the day residences and seeing to it that all activities offered take place within the rules of the university.

Within the day residences, students can participate in all activities also offered by campus residences. Participation takes place by means of association – the city student therefore has a free choice to join one of the seven day residences.

Student Life Colleges

At Kovensies, student life form part of and takes place in line with your in-class learning experience. Outside the classroom student life programmes assist you to successfully adapt to university and develop the leadership potential and skills you will need in the workplace one day. Student life also focuses on developing your understanding of citizenship and willingness to participate in community service.

These programmes are presented in the Student Life Colleges in which all students are placed. A Student Life College consists of a day residence (off-campus student association) and four campus residences that combine as a group to promote student success and to participate together in development programmes outside the classroom.

All students belong to a Student Life College. Off-campus students who have not yet become members of a day residence are placed in a college and can then decide if they want to be a member of the day residence of that college, or of another college. Thus, as a student, you will be placed with a Student Life College and you can participate in your college in all the programmes for leadership, career and citizenship development. Your college experience begins with your participation in the GATEWAY programme that kicks off at the start of the year. The GATEWAY programme presents orientation programmes for all students – from first-years to postgraduate students. If you'll be a new student at Kovensies in the near future, it is important that you join the GATEWAY programme and participate in other programmes that will be offered in your Student Life College. See the list of Student Life Colleges to determine which college you belong to and when your college will participate in the GATEWAY programme.

THE ALL-IN-ONE KOVSIE CAMPUS

Leadership Development

Enquiries: +27 51 401 2716

At Kovsies, learners become leaders through a number of leadership development opportunities. You can already apply in your first year to participate in our International First-Year Leadership Programme, through which you may travel abroad and meet student leaders from across the globe. However, you will also find other opportunities and formal leadership development programmes such as the PO10SEE Adventure camp that focuses on leadership development with adventure activities.

Leadership bursaries are also provided to students who volunteer as student leaders in student life programmes. You also have the opportunity to develop and refine your leadership capacity and skills by participating in student life activities and availing yourself of leadership roles such as in student associations and residences or, among others, as part of Kovsie Rag Community Service and Kovsie Media. You also have the opportunity to form part of the executive committees of the Student Representative Council and its sub-councils.

All student leaders receive formal leadership development and training for which you are certified for attendance and which form part of building your career profile.

Learning Communities and Student Associations

Lively and dynamic student associations comprise a major part of Kovsie student life. Different societies address different interests of students and arrange outdoor, adventure, spiritual, cultural, political and social activities. Different associations often collaborate to debate specific themes, or arrange joint programmes and then find a learning community to investigate the topic. Students participate in the activities in order to get to know more about the learning community. Kovsie students boast learning communities addressing leadership, social justice and street theatre. Students are encouraged to become members of societies and participate in a learning community.

Rag Community Service

Enquiries: +27 51 401 2718/3768/2410

For most people, Rag Community Service is synonymous with the much anticipated and fun-filled parade which takes place annually during January in Bloemfontein. Rag immediately conjures up images of fun and spectacular floats, accompanied by music, laughter and sunburnt students cradling money tins. However, the annual Rag Parade and the three weeks' frenzied activity that precedes it, represent only a small segment of the broad range of fundraising and community service activities that we engage in. The energy and enthusiasm of the Kopsie students ensure that this active fundraising organisation continues its vast activities throughout the year. Rag is an acronym for 'Reach and Give'. This underlines the spirit of giving to those less fortunate. Each student is encouraged to give and to live a life to make a difference. Rag Community Service will continue to provide and care for the less fortunate through the work and enthusiasm of the students.

Kopsie Arts and Culture

Enquiries: +27 51 401 9876

The Arts and Culture Office offers a myriad of cultural programmes such as the ever popular first-years' Stagedoor and Kleinsêr, both of which provide students the opportunity to participate in, compete, experience and share in the joys and excitement of Kopsie cultural life.

Our end of year crowning event, the Kopsie Extravaganza, has hosted world-class artists such as Vusi Mahlasela, Die Heuwels Fantasties and multiple SAMA award-winning Zahara, who have tantalised the musical taste buds of even the most hard-to-please arts and culture buffs.

Arts and Culture events and projects on all the UFS campuses are aimed at offering each student the opportunity to experience multiple and diverse cultural offerings.

Spiritual Development

Students are encouraged to participate in activities for their spiritual development offered by religious communities. Spiritual societies are allowed to collaborate with students on campus. Christian churches that want to work on campus have to join the Campus Ministries Forum, a forum for all churches that want to work with students.

Student Counselling and Development

This unit provides services to current, as well as prospective students of the UFS:

Personal development: Individual

We offer individual, confidential counselling in various psychological, emotional and developmental issues. Depression, anxiety, relationship problems, eating disorders, low self-esteem, grief, adjustment, assault, rape and anger management are some of the issues we address.
