ABOUT THE UFS

The University of the Free State (UFS) has a proud history as one of the oldest, most respected institutions of higher education in South Africa. It opened its doors in Bloemfontein in 1904 as the Grey University College, with six students in the Humanities. Today it is a multi-campus institution, with two diverse campuses in Bloemfontein and one in Qwaqwa in the scenic Eastern Free State, accommodating more than 40 000 students in its seven faculties (Economic and Management Sciences, Education, Health Sciences, the Humanities, Law, Natural and Agricultural Sciences, Theology and Religion), with an increasing number of international students and associates, and an ever-widening scope of active involvement in and contribution to its surrounding communities.

For the past 118 years, the UFS has been delivering quality graduates who have made their mark in various sectors. What sets the institution apart is its holistic student support initiatives, enabling it to achieve some of the highest success rates in the country. Delivering students who are in high demand in the global job market, remains a top priority. An established network of industry partners and close collaboration with the public and private sectors, as well as a continuous process of transformation and curriculum renewal, dovetail to produce highly employable graduates.

UFS research efforts are driven by dedicated scholars, some of whom are international leaders in their fields, with industry and social impact and real-world application.

Through the principle of engaged scholarship, the UFS responds to societal needs, using its scholarly and professional expertise with an intentional public purpose and benefit.

The UFS is an institution that goes all out to provide its students and staff with an outstanding university experience. Anchored in a value bedrock of social justice, respect, and caring, the institution has managed to remain steadfastly relevant in a challenging and ever-changing national higher education landscape.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE UFS CREST OVER MORE THAN A CENTURY

1904

Up to 1935, the same coat of arms was used as the Grey College School.

1935

By 1935, with the name change to University College of the Orange Free State, the coat of arms fell into disuse, especially among students.

1947

In 1947, an agreement between management and students led to the new motto Per Fidem ad Sapientiam (Through faith to wisdom).

1950

In 1952, it was changed to In Deo Sapientiae Lux (In God is the light of wisdom). The traditional orange, white and blue, linking the UFS to the South African national colours, changed in the late 1990s.

The orange was replaced by cherry red.

UNIVERSITY OF THE FREE STATE
UNIVERSITEIT VAN DIE VRYSTAAT
YUNIVESITHI YA FREISTATA

2011

The academic brand - the historic University of the Free State crest that has been the symbol of the university since 1952, has evolved to embrace the aesthetic expectations of the stakeholders.

The shape of the traditional academic shield has been simplified and contemporised. Much of the symbolism of the crest remains intact, acknowledging the location of the UFS brand as one of the country's premier institutions of higher education, with a proud history of academic excellence and an ever evolving, vibrant culture.

MESSAGE FROM THE RECTOR AND VICE-CHANCELLOR

Dear Student

Welcome to the graduation ceremony of the University of the Free State (UFS).

We are especially pleased that your graduation ceremony can take place in person and in the presence of the university congregation.

Today is a memorable day and a culmination of the time you spent here at the UFS. You are not only becoming an alumnus of this great 118-year-old institution, but you are now also part of a fraternity of exceptional individuals who have graduated before you.

Congratulations to our graduands – this is a special day indeed and it is certainly heart-warming to see so many of you being conferred these well-deserved qualifications today. You should be proud of your achievements – take a moment to celebrate and acknowledge YOU.

At the same time, you would not have reached this milestone without the support of many people around you – let us also acknowledge and express gratitude to your support structures – the parents, family, friends, guardians, and lecturers who made it possible for you to be here today.

As you venture into the world, you will find yourself contemplating what your role in the world is and what kind of a world you want to live in. Sometimes the road ahead can be challenging and complex – however, remember that the skills of hard work, resilience, determination, and focus will help you forge ahead. After all, these are the skills that have helped you to achieve your UFS qualification.

Also be mindful that collective and individual responsibility is important to our success – this became very clear during the pandemic. Reach out to others, lend a helping hand wherever you can, support each other, involve yourselves in your communities, and most of all, be kind and humane. Be mindful of these in everything that you do.

Graduands, I am proud of your resilience. You are truly inspiring, and I am confident that you are well prepared to embrace the future and flourish in anything you set your mind to.

Be brave, be bold, and make a difference in this world.

Best wishes

PROF FW PETERSEN

HONORARY DOCTORATE

MS WINNIE BYANYIMA

Ms Winnie Byanyima is the Executive Director of UNAIDS and an Under-Secretary-General of the United Nations. She holds a master's degree in mechanical engineering from Cranfield University in the United Kingdom (UK) and an undergraduate degree in aeronautical engineering from the University of Manchester in the UK.

Previously, she served as the Executive Director of Oxfam International, a confederation of 20 civil society organisations working in more than 90 countries worldwide, empowering people to create a future that is secure, just, and free from poverty. Currently, she leads the United Nations' efforts to end the AIDS epidemic by 2030 and believes that health care is a human right; hence, she was an early champion for a people's vaccine against COVID-19, which should be available and free of charge to everyone, everywhere.

Elected for three terms and serving for eleven years in parliament, Ms Byanyima led Uganda's first parliamentary women's caucus, championing ground-breaking gender equality provisions in the country's 1995 post-conflict constitution. She founded the Forum for Women in Democracy, an influential Ugandan nongovernmental organisation, and has been deeply involved in building global and African coalitions on social justice issues. Ms Byanyima also co-chaired the World Economic Forum and served on the World Bank's Advisory Council on Gender and Development, the International Labour Organisation's Global Commission on the Future of Work, and the Global Commission on Adaptation.

Among Ms Byanyima's many awards are honorary doctorates from the University of Manchester, and Mount Saint Vincent University in Canada. In 2018, she received the Human Rights and Solidarity among Peoples Prize awarded by the Latin American Council of Social Sciences.

MACHINGAMBI, Margaret

Margaret Machingambi was born on 16 April 1972 in Masvingo district in Zimbabwe. She attended her primary education at Gokomere Central Primary School from 1981 to 1986 and enrolled at Gokomere High School in 1990. She went to Bondolfi teachers' college from 1994 to 1996 to train as a primary school teacher. She was deployed to teach in Zaka district in 1997. She went to the United College of Education from January 2004 to April 2005 for Diploma in Special Needs Education. Margaret went to further her education at Great Zimbabwe University from 2010 to 2011 for Bachelor in Education. From 2014 to 2015, she studied Master of Education in Special Needs Education at the same institution. She enrolled at UFS for Ph.D. in 2017 to 2021. Currently, she is teaching at Victoria Junior school in Masvingo urban, and she is also a part-time lecturer at Great Zimbabwe University.

With her thesis, EXPLORING THE RESILIENCE OF LEARNERS WITH ALBINISM IN MASVINGO DISTRICT IN ZIMBABWE, The study was motivated by understanding what made some Learners With Albinism (LWA) function resiliently despite their individual, familial, environmental, and wider community risk processes that threaten resilience. It aimed to explore the experiences of LWA, explore how they navigated their experiences, and analyse how they overcame their challenges. This study establishes a program intervention for LWA. This study used positive psychology as a theoretical framework.

It adopted a mixed-method approach using sequential exploratory design and a critical realism paradigm. Data collection has proceeded in two phases. The first phase used semi-structured interviews and drawing and writing techniques. The second phase employed the questionnaires, and all sub-scales met the required internal consistency and reliability level. The participants were purposively and conveniently selected from one special school and four mainstream schools in Zimbabwe's Masvingo district. Ten participants (N= 10; 5 boys and 5 girls), whose ages ranged from 14 to 18) and fifty participants (N= 50; 25 males and 25 females). Descriptive statistics (mean scores, percentages, standard deviation) and inferential statistics (correlation and regression) were used to analyze the quantitative data and thematic analysis for qualitative data. The findings revealed that LWA experienced challenges such as bullying, teasing, negatives attitudes, and verbal, emotional, and physical abuse. The lack of resources in mainstream schools hinders the resilience building of LWA. The program intervention for LWA was established to help stakeholders, teachers, government, and policymakers to implement it. The study recommended that teachers be trained in teaching LWA in mainstream schools and provide resources in schools.

THE SEANAMARENA THE TRADITIONAL BASOTHO BLANKET

The Main Procession Graduation Gowns – embroidered with rich diversity

South Africa, and the Free State in particular, has a long-standing friendship with our neighbouring country, Lesotho.

Through a shared history, we have become co-creators of our futures. For this reason, the UFS decided to incorporate our tradition with that of the Basotho in the design of our Main Procession graduation gowns.

The gowns are inspired by the Seanamarena – the traditional Basotho blanket. The different patterns on the Seanamarena indicate the status one holds in the Basotho nation or reflect the occasion being celebrated. Keeping the Seanamarena pattern in mind, we combined our traditional academic designs with that of the Basotho nation.

YOKE PATTERNS

Yoke pattern for the Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor

This Seanamarena pattern is an interpretation of a design – used exclusively for the king and chiefs – which means ‘to swear by the king’. This blanket has the highest status of all Basotho blankets.

Yoke pattern for the Chairperson of the Council

This Seanamarena Victorian crest motif appeared after the visit of the Prince of Wales to Lesotho in 1925, which made a profound impression on the local people. Customers refer to this blanket as ‘lesiba’ – meaning feathers – when buying it.

Yoke pattern for the Vice-Rector

This Seanamarena Poone design symbolises good crops, wealth, and fertility. The Poone is given as a present to honour an important visitor.

Yoke pattern for Registrar

The same Seanamarena Poone design used for the Vice-Rector applies to the Registrar, with some slight design and colour alterations.

The Deans wear gowns made in the colours of the faculties, or others which indicate the office they hold.
