GENERAL UNIVERSITY RULES

1. GENERAL INFORMATION

Note: It is important that students know the General Academic Rules and Regulations and the Faculty rules that apply to their degree/diploma programmes.

1.1 General Academic Rules and Regulations

The General Academic Rules and Regulations that apply to all students and faculties are set out in the General Academic Rules and Regulations for 2024 (hereafter referred to as the General Rules). General rules deal with matters such as:

- Admission requirements for study at the University;
- How to register for a programme. (These rules include details on how to change programmes, simultaneous registration, and whether credit will be given for work done at other higher education institutions.)
- What is required to pass a module, or to be awarded a distinction (These rules include rules and details about tests, examinations and special examinations, rules about marks, rules that apply if a student misreads the examination timetable, and rules about readmitting students to or excluding students from programmes.)

1.2 Faculty rules

Faculty rules relate specifically to the degree and diploma programmes offered by the Faculty of the Humanities. These rules are to be found in this book.

1.3 General requirements to be admitted as a student to the Faculty

Generally, students may register for programmes offered by the Faculty of the Humanities if they meet the University's admission requirements. Some programmes offered by the Faculty of the Humanities require students to meet requirements in addition to those that the University requires for general admission. Students must refer to the applicable programmes contained in this Rule Book to establish whether they qualify for a particular programme.

A prospective student registering for an undergraduate entry level qualification must take the Academic and Quantitative Literacy Test prior to registering. If the stipulated requirements of the National Benchmark Tests (NBT) (Academic Literacy $\geq 64\%$) have not been met, or the results of the tests cannot be submitted, registration for the applicable language development module (EALH1508) is mandatory. The credits of this module are additional to the credits required for the qualification. A qualification is not awarded unless the mandatory development module has been passed.

Students who have successfully completed the HCert (Humanities) can, after applying for exemption with Universities South Africa (USAf), articulate to the first year of a mainstream Bachelor's degree in the Faculty of the Humanities (selection criteria and -process for selection programmes still applies). Recognition of modules passed as part of the HCert, will be at the Dean and or Assistant Dean's discretion when a student articulates to a mainstream degree in the faculty. Students who articulate to the first year of a mainstream Bachelor's degree, will also be required to complete the language foundation module, EALH2508, in their first year of registration of the mainstream degree. Students will not be allowed to start with any third year level modules of a mainstream degree if EALH2508 is not passed.

Students who have completed the University Access Programme (UAP) successfully and wish to continue their studies in the Faculty, will be admitted to the second year of study of the Extended (4-year curriculum) Programme.

1.4 Assessment of students

Assessment is the process of determining the value, significance and extent of what students know, understand, and can do with their knowledge as a result of their educational experiences. Assessment results are used to document, explain, and improve performance. Assessment can be done at various times throughout a programme. A comprehensive assessment plan will include formative and summative assessment or, alternatively, continuous assessment. The point at which the assessment occurs in a programme distinguishes these three types of assessment.

Summative assessment is considered as assessment of learning and is distinguished from formative assessment, which is assessment for learning.

Summative assessment

Summative assessment takes place after the learning has been completed, i.e., at the end of a quarter, semester or year and provides information and feedback that sums up the teaching and learning process. The intention behind summative assessment is to validate performance and award grades or marks.

Formative assessment

Formative assessment measures students' learning progress during the learning process to provide ongoing feedback and incremental feedback. It includes a range of formal and informal assessments, typically to monitor the progress being made towards achieving learning outcomes and obtaining a semester mark or predicate, i.e. admission to the summative assessment exam.

Continuous assessment

Continuous assessment is used as an alternative to summative assessment. Continuous assessment is assessments that occur throughout the learning process and not only after the learning process. Students are thus examined continuously over the duration of a quarter, semester or year. It is cumulative and the marks are calculated to produce a final result.

Students must read the study guide of each particular module carefully to determine exactly how they will be assessed in that module.

1.5 Examinations

Students registered for a module to which the promotion system is not applicable, and students with a module mark below 70% must write the examination for that module. To pass the module, a student must have a combined mark (that is, the module mark combined with the examination mark) of at least 50%, and the mark in the examination must be at least 40%. This mark is the Final Mark.

Admission to the examination: A minimum semester/module mark of 40% is required to be eligible to write the final module examinations. A student will be refused admission to the examination or special examination if he/she does not obtain the required minimum mark of 40% for a module.

Promotion: In some modules students who have attained a module mark of 70% and more will be promoted and thus they need not sit for the examination, provided that the student has utilized all of the scheduled assessments in the module, covering all the module content. This does not apply to exit-level modules, where the exams have to be taken, or where it is otherwise stated in the module guide that promotion will not apply. Students who can be promoted but wish to sit for the examinations may do so, in which case the EXAMINATION mark will be the final mark.

The main Mid-year Examination and the Main End-of-year Examination are compulsory for all students who have NOT been promoted, in accordance with the General Rules and the Faculty Rules. Students will only be allowed to write the relevant Supplementary Mid-year Examination or the Supplementary End-of-year Examination on approval of a written application, based on the relevant published supplementary examination timetable. Students who qualify for reassessment do not have to apply for admission to the relevant supplementary examination. Application for supplementary examinations is applicable to enrolled UFS students, who wish to exercise their right in terms of the General Rules to improve their marks obtained during the preceding main examination; and/or Experienced unforeseen and compelling circumstances immediately prior to or during the preceding compulsory Main Examination.

Students are awarded a qualification only when they have completed all the required modules successfully. Any outstanding module has to be repeated under the conditions of 1.1.

In order to pass a module with distinction, a student must obtain a final mark of at least 75% or a promotion mark of at least 75% and must have participated in all the scheduled assessment opportunities.

1.6 Timetable clashes

The onus is on students to compile their curricula in such a way that they have no timetable clashes in either lectures or examinations. Please check the full class timetable, available at the following link: <http://www.ufs.ac.za/adhoc-pages/quick-links/official-timetables>.

1.7 Protection of Personal Information

No disclosure of marks or student information or discussion of students' performance will be done with parents or other third parties without the prior written permission of the student, in order to protect personal information in accordance with the Protection of Personal Information Act (No. 4 of 2013) (Notice No. 912 of 2013, Government Gazette No. 37067, Volume 581, 26 November 2013).

2. BACHELOR'S DEGREES

2.1 Minimum Admission Requirements (according to the Higher Education Qualification Sub Framework HEQSF Vol. 792 No. 38116 17 October 2014)

A student wishing to enroll for a Bachelor's Degree programme must have a National Senior Certificate or the National Certificate (Vocational) with appropriate subject combinations and levels of achievement, as defined in the Minister's Policies: Minimum Admission Requirements for Higher Certificate, Diploma and Bachelor's Degree Programmes Requiring a National Senior Certificate (NSC), Government Gazette, Vol. 751, No. 32131 of 11 July 2008, and Minimum Admission Requirements for a National Certificate (Vocational), published in the Government Gazette, Vol. 553, No. 32743, November 2009.

In addition to this minimum requirement, specific admission requirements for each degree programme are specified throughout this book.

2.2 Explaining the terms subjects, modules, codes and credits

The three areas in the Faculty of the Humanities offer students a broad variety of choices. But within this wide area, each degree or diploma places a limit on students' choices and makes them concentrate on specific "subjects". For example, BA (to take the broadest of the Bachelor's Degree programmes) requires students to have at least two major subjects. These are subjects that students take for all three years of study. Students will also have Minor subjects; these are subjects that they study for only one or two years.

Each subject is divided up into "modules", which are more-or-less self-contained parts of that subject. For example, Political Science is a subject that comprises the following two first-year modules:

"Introduction to political science. "and " Introduction to World Politics and global governance ". These two modules make up the first-year subject of political science.

Each module is known by a code that contains useful information. To take first-year political science again: the code for the module "Introduction to Political Science "is POLS1514.

The alphabetical characters POLS identifies the subject, which is political science. The first numerical character (i.e. the first 1) indicates the study year: it is a first-year module. The second numerical character (i.e. the 5) indicates the National Qualification Framework (NQF) level at which the module is offered. The third numerical character (i.e. the second 1) indicates the tuition period: odd numbers indicate first semester, even numbers indicate second semester, and a 0 indicates that it is a year module. POLS1514 is a first semester module. The fourth numerical character (i.e. the 4) indicates the credit load of the module in multiples of four: $4 \times 4 = 16$, therefore POLS1514 carries 16 credits. If the credit load deviates from this, a zero (0) is assigned.

Students must know the number of credits each module carries, as each degree requires a certain number of credits for a student to complete.

2.3 Explaining the terms majors, minors, core, fundamental and elective modules

Every degree programme should include at least two subjects that a student studies in all three years at university. These subjects are known as the student's major fields of study. For a subject to be considered a major a student has to complete at least 64 credits at an NQF level 7 in that subject. Most of the time a student will complete these credits during his/her third year of study, but there are subjects in which a student begins to study at an NQF level 7 during the second year.

A student normally starts to commit to his/her major fields of study at the end of the first year.

There is nothing preventing a student from taking more than two subjects to third-year level (i.e. majoring in more than two subjects), but the student must apply, and obtain approval prior to registration, from the dean of the Faculty to do this.

A degree programme is balanced by making at least one other subject compulsory to second-year level. This subject is known as the student's minor subject and will ensure that a student has the required number of credits at NQF level 6 in his/her degree programme. The modules from which students may choose their Minor subjects consists of subjects that academically support or add value to the majors.

Elective subjects are subjects that students have more freedom to choose and choice is normally restricted only by timetable clashes. In recommended plans, however, recommended electives are a combination of majors and Minors.

All subjects are made up of modules. In most cases at the UFS, a module counts for 16 credits, though not always. The credit values of all modules that are used in the Faculty of the Humanities are shown next to the module in the table.

Modules can be core, fundamental or elective modules. Currently in the Faculty of Humanities all modules in major or minor subject fields must be considered as core modules. All modules completed as part of elective subject fields must be considered elective modules.

The fundamental modules that all students in the Faculty of Humanities complete are UFSS1504 and CSIQ1531.

Students in the Faculty of Humanities who do not complete the NBT tests or obtain less than 64% in the academic and quantitative (AQ) section of the NBT test, must complete the foundation module EALH1508 in their first year of academic study.

The difference between these module categories are:

- Core modules are the compulsory learning required in situations contextually relevant to a particular qualification;
- Fundamental modules are modules in which the learning forms the basis or foundation required for education to take place that is required for obtaining the qualification; and
- Elective modules are a selection of additional credits from which a choice may be made to ensure that the purpose of the qualification is achieved.

2.4 Prerequisites

The requirements for being permitted to take a module are set in the General Rules . In general, unless departments permit modules to be taken in another order, students are accepted to later modules only if they have successfully completed earlier, preliminary modules.

Please note that these prerequisites was activated in 2016 and are applicable to all students who registered from 2015.

The following requirements must be met for admission to certain subjects, modules or programmes:

2.5 Duration of study and compiling a curriculum

A student may, for an undergraduate qualification, only register at the University for the minimum period allowed for that qualification plus an additional two years, with the second period following directly after the first, and she/he must complete her/his studies for that particular qualification in accordance with the rules applicable at the time of registration. Should there be an interruption to the student's study; the rules applicable to the time of the registration after interruption will apply.

If a student interrupts her/his studies for reasons other than the lack of academic progress, the maximum period of study will be counted from the year of return, but the student will not be permitted to register in the same programme in which she/he was registered before if there has been a change in the programme. The student must then register for a new qualification/programme and recognition must be given where it is valid.

A student must compile and distribute a curriculum over a period not shorter than that determined by Senate, in accordance with the module and venue timetable, the examination timetable, the module prerequisites and the prescribed sequence and composition of modules as required for specific study years.

2.6 Progression rules and readmission on the basis of academic progress

General Rule A14(a) indicates that a student must complete his/her studies in the minimum prescribed study period plus two years. This is known as the residential period. Most of the undergraduate programmes in this Faculty thus have a residential period of maximum five years, except BA (Fine Arts), BMus, Bachelor of Social Work and BA/BSocSci extended curriculum programmes which have a maximum six-year residential period.

HUM 1: Academic Progression Rules (current students progressing to the next year)

- (a) Students who do not obtain the minimum credits per year (except students in their first year of registration) will automatically be BLOCKED FOR REGISTRATION in the Faculty. They can appeal to the Faculty Readmission Appeals Committee for re-admission. The appeal form must be completed and submitted to the Office of the Dean two days after the results of the additional examinations are available.
- (b) Students repeating modules can only register for a maximum of 64 credits per semester. Special permission may be granted for adding one 16-credit module.
- (c) Students will only be allowed to repeat a module once if they meet the minimum requirements for progression. All results, such as fail, discontinue or incomplete, are regarded as an attempt to do the module. Only final year students will be allowed to repeat a module more than once, with a maximum of two (2) modules (development modules are excluded from this concession for final years)
- (d) Students must complete their degrees within the residential period. If it becomes evident that the student will not be able to comply with this rule, the student can be deregistered even if the residential period has not been reached.
- (e) Students who do not comply with (d), with a maximum of 4 modules outstanding, will only be allowed to conditionally register for one more year. The student must then pass all the modules that they are registered for in that year and complete the qualification.
- (f) Students may only register for one additional 16-credit module per semester, over and above the number of prescribed modules required in the learning programme. Approval will depend on the academic record of the student.

HUM 2: Faculty Readmission Rules (students who took a gap year)

Readmission in the Faculty of the Humanities is defined as an application for admission to a programme by an applicant or student who was previously admitted and enrolled to study at the UFS in any undergraduate programme. The aim of the rules is to ensure alignment with the Humanities progression rules in order not to penalise or disadvantage students presently in the system. The main aim would be to facilitate progress within the normal residential period plus six months not counting the years of disruption in study. The following principles will guide the decisions:

- Previous academic performance,
- Improved academic performance at other academic institutions, if the applicant or student enrolled at another institution after they left the UFS,
- Proof of any form of rehabilitation or improved conditions in terms of mental, emotional and physical health,

- At least one year of non-registration after academic exclusion – unsuccessful academic appeal,
 - Recognition of successful employment of at least one or two years,
 - Improved financial situation,
 - Proof of an aptitude test.
- a) Students applying for re-admission must meet the current admission requirements for the specific programme they applied for.
 - b) Students who have failed, discontinued or have incomplete modules for more than 45% of ALL credits EVER REGISTERED at the UFS will NOT be readmitted to the faculty.
 - c) Students who have to register for more than TWO modules for the third time will not be readmitted.
 - d) Students readmitted in the faculty must be able to complete the degree in the required residential period with a maximum extension of one year.
 - e) If the programme the student was registered for, before the interruption of studies, does not exist on the PQM any longer, the student will be readmitted to the new programme of choice and the student needs to comply with the present admission requirements for the programme.
 - f) All relevant modules done in the past 5 years can be recognised. If the modules were passed more than 5 years ago, the student will have to repeat those modules. Development modules and UFSS1504 are excluded from the 5-year shelf life rule.
 - g) Students who were denied access in a readmission application cannot appeal the decision.
 - h) Students from other institutions or faculties (transferring students) must meet the current minimum admission requirements for the programme they applied for and must apply annually before the closing date for applications. Poor academic performance at the institution/faculty transferring from, can also disqualify the student from being considered for admission even if the current minimum admission requirements are met.

2.7 Changes to programmes and codes; students wishing to re-register under the new programme system

Students who are registered for degrees or diplomas no longer listed in the Rule Book of the Faculty of the Humanities may nevertheless, under normal circumstances, complete their programme in accordance with the rules of the year that they registered, provided that their residential period has not been exceeded or interrupted.

Students who registered before module changes may change their registration to an equivalent new degree or to diploma programme outlined in this Rule Book, provided that students comply with the minimum admission requirements for the qualification. Students changing their registration must consult the programme director in charge of the course about the credits they have and about what additional modules they may have to take.

2.8 UFSS1504

The UFSS1504 module is a compulsory module for all students registering for a first qualification at the University, and a qualification cannot be obtained from the University if UFSS1504 has not been completed successfully. Mainstream students register for UFSS1504 in their first academic year. Students in the extended programmes, who have passed SCLL1504, OR SCNS1504, OR SCLL1414 AND SCLL1524, register for UFSS1522 in the second academic year and receive recognition for UFSS1512. UFSS1512+UFSS1522 is equivalent to UFSS1504. These rules stand, except where otherwise stipulated in the relevant faculty's rules, and subject to the requirements, stipulations and conditions approved by Senate.

UFSS1504 is not compulsory in respect of the following:

- Students who enroll for the Higher Certificate in Music Performance,
- Transfer students who have already completed a diploma or degree from an accredited institution, and
- Students aged 30 years and above.

2.9 Faculty Readmission Appeals Committee (FRAC) & the University Readmission Review Tribunal (URRT)

An appeal is a written application by a student to make a serious, urgent, request for a reversal of the decision made by the Faculty Examinations Board (FEB) regarding her/his progression status or academic exclusion. Where the FEB refuses a student permission to renew registration at the UFS for the study programme for which she/he is registered, the excluded student may appeal for admission:

- to register for the same programme based on extraordinary reasons for the non-compliance; or
- to register for another programme of study in the same or another faculty.

The FRAC is a Committee of the Faculty that considers and decides appeals by a student:

- against the decision to exclude her/him; or
- for admission to another programme of study in the same faculty; or
- for admission to another programme of study in another faculty.

The URRT is a Committee of Senate that reviews the decisions of the FRAC and considers a student's submission and any response from the FRAC to make a decision, either to:

- confirm the FRAC decision; or
- set aside the decision of the FRAC and refer the case back for consideration by the original FRAC; or
- set aside the decision and reach a new decision.

Appeals by students against decisions of the FEB to refuse readmission will be considered by the FRAC. A student may submit a request for a review to the URRT in the following instances:

- (i) where there was a material procedural irregularity; or
- (ii) where the FRAC did not have, or failed to consider, material new evidence in support of the appeal.

The process and procedures of the Faculty Readmission Appeals Committee of the Faculty of the Humanities is available on the faculty website. It remains the student's responsibility to acquaint him/herself of the process and procedures of the committee.

2.10 Recognition of credits and exemption from modules

Applications for recognition of credits and exemption from modules in terms of the General Rule will be considered by the Faculty of the Humanities while primarily taking cognisance of the academic integrity and quality of the qualifications of the Faculty. Recognition will be given to different modules if passed within specific periods determined from the date on which the module is passed to the date of application for recognition. The standard period for recognition of modules is five (5) years.

This will be applicable to the following students:

- i) Students who interrupted their studies with a year or more, and who want to continue in 2024.
- ii) Students who transfer from other universities or from another faculty within the UFS, to a qualification in the Humanities
- iii) Students who, from 2017, transferred from one degree in the Faculty of the Humanities to another degree in the faculty.

Students who transferred from other universities or faculties within the UFS, or between qualifications in the Faculty of the Humanities in 2016 and before, will be excluded from this policy.

2.11 ePortfolio Development: Enterprising your Degree

EDED3712/3722 is the ePortfolio Development: Enterprising your Degree module available for final year undergraduate students and postgraduate students. This module is positioned as a capstone for graduates, and is aligned with career development and employability initiatives at the UFS. The aim of this module is to enhance your employability by teaching you to take stock of your skills and attributes that you have acquired during your studies, and articulate that in an ePortfolio that would help you market your skills, network, and apply for work. Students that register for this module will develop the digital skills to engage on LinkedIn, populate a website, and develop a future work plan to turn their skill set into a career. EDED3712/3722 is a semester long 8 credit module – you can participate in the module either in the first semester or the second semester. If you register for this module, it will be in addition to your degree credits and will not weigh towards the required number of credits for graduation.

UFSS1504	Undergraduate Core Curriculum	16

As per the UFS General Rules, UFSS1504 is compulsory and a pre-requisite for degree completion. Students in the extended programme, who passed SCLL1508, and students from the Higher Certificate, who passed (SCLL1414 + SCLL1524) will receive recognition for UFSS1512, which is equivalent to the first semester of UFSS1504. These students will then register for UFSS1522, a second semester module, which is equivalent to the second semester of UFSS1504. Mainstream students will register for UFSS1504.

4.3 Academic Programme

The Faculty of the Humanities makes provision for an academic programme in the BA degree. This programme is built around a specific core (majors), which together with a relevant Minor subject and an elective (s), offers a student a coherent curriculum with a purposeful outcome.

The academic programme is designed so that decisions about which subjects a student will major in can be made at the end of their 1st year within the options of that academic programme. Students wanting to change their academic programme at the end of their first year will have to apply for this and be subject to the availability of space in their preferred programme a decision can be made. Such a decision will be made with full academic advice support but students must take cognisance that a subject that is not done in first year cannot be taken as a major without the consequence of extending study for an extra year. Compulsory Academic Advice in the first year of study will focus on the general interests of the student. Serious academic decisions about future subjects happen at the end of the first year of study.

Subject choices that differ from recommended academic programme will have to be applied for and approved by the Office of the Dean and or Assistant Dean on the recommendation of the Programme Director in order to ensure academic coherence and progression. It is strongly suggested that students consider recommended academic programmes.

The following recommended academic programme is offered in the BA degree at the QwaQwa campus.

Academic programme
