

BIOGRAPHY – MS NATASHA KABASO

Ms Natasha Kabaso obtained her Bachelor of Laws degree and is currently pursuing her Interdisciplinary Master's of Human Rights at the University of the Free State. She studied law because she firmly believes in the power of the law to change the quality of life that we, as a global community, experience. Ms Kabaso has dedicated herself to creating a conducive and productive society driven by a desire to uplift others, especially the marginalised in our society. Ms Kabaso has been involved in many leadership and education structures at the University of the Free State. She has served as a student assistant, teaching assistant, peer mentor, Faculty of Law tutor, residence prime, and serving on the Student Representative Council. She has served as a volunteer at the Institute for Reconciliation and Social Justice and as a co-researcher on the "Youth Voices for Social Justice" project under the Higher Education and Human Development Research Program at the University of the Free State. Ms Kabaso hopes to continue and contribute to the realisation of a genuinely just society where human rights are championed and all humans are seen and treated as equals.
