ABOUT THE UFS

WHERE ARE WE SITUATED?

FREE STATE: DISCOVER THE HEART OF SOUTH AFRICA

In the geographical heart of South Africa, the Free State province is a tapestry of natural splendour, woven with the threads of cultural richness and vibrant history. Encircled by diverse provinces and the mountain kingdom of Lesotho, it is a gateway to an array of South African experiences.

The Free State's fertile soil yields abundance that feeds the nation, and its landscapes captivate -- with a dramatic blend of expansive plains and the awe-inspiring Maluti and Drakensberg mountain ranges. Golden Gate Highlands National Park crowns this scenic majesty with its breath taking sandstone formations and a treasure trove of ancient San rock art, set against a backdrop where wildlife roams free under the vast African sky. Beyond nature's appeal, the province is a canvas of historical narratives and cultural tapestries. In Bloemfontein, you will discover a hub of knowledge at the National Museum with its fossil collections unparalleled in South Africa. Memorials and heritage sites tell stories of yesteryears, and the Basotho Cultural Village, near Qwaqwa invites you to step into a living history of local traditions.

The Free State's fabric is one of warm hospitality and a relaxed pace of life, offering a slice of tranquillity for the soul. Adventure-seekers can quench their thirst with exhilarating outdoor pursuits, such as hiking through unspoiled trails, abseiling down rugged cliffs, or conquering the Ash River, which boasts high water levels year-round for the ultimate white-water rafting experience. In Bloemfontein, the nation's judicial heart, the Franklin Game Reserve defies expectations -- a sanctuary of wildlife embraces urban life, offering a unique juxtaposition where one can gaze upon giraffes against the city skyline. Connectivity is seamless, with the Bram Fischer International Airport providing efficient travel to and from major urban hubs.

The Free State promises more than just a place of study; it is a horizon of possibilities, an affordable, accessible, and captivating locale. It is the warmth of its people that truly defines it, their generosity and friendliness offering a home away from home, where every student is welcomed into a community that celebrates diversity and nurtures potential.

Welcome to the Free State, where every path leads to discovery, and every experience enriches your journey. This is not just your study destination; it is the beginning of your story in the heart of South Africa.

VISION 130

Renew and Reimagine for 2034

The wisdom contained in this African proverb rings true through the ages, echoing in all sectors of society, reverberating in local, regional, and global contexts.

At the University of the Free State, we have a clear vision of where we want to be within the next few years leading up to the year 2034, when the university will be 130 years old. This vision is encapsulated in our Vision 130, which expresses our intent and commitment to be acknowledged by our peers and society as a top-tier university in South Africa, ranked among the best in the world.

Equally important to this clear vision is our strategy on how to turn vision into reality. We are focused on consistently renewing and reimagining ourselves in order to effectively impact the communities that surround us. We aim to do this by building on our enduring strengths and successes, established and honed since our inception in 1904. We are proud of our consistent growth in student success, brought about by a holistic approach to student development, our continued contribution to scarce skills areas in our country and our region, and our increasing curricular relevance and graduate employability. We are consistently improving our research productivity and expanding our number of leading researchers, with distinctive research areas that are continuously developing.

We want to build on these solid foundations by increasing our number of postgraduate students, recruiting the best students and scholars from diverse backgrounds, cultivating and expanding cherished partnerships with our wide range of stakeholders, and making maximum use of new and existing technologies to enhance the quality of learning, teaching, research, and business processes. Academic excellence, quality, and impact lie at the centre of our vision. So does maximum societal impact through sustainable relationships, as well as a diverse, inclusive, and equitable university culture.

We are setting our sights and strategy high, knowing that our institution has the necessary human capital, resilience, and innovation to grow from strength to strength. With our final destination firmly in focus, we are guided by shining beacons – in the form of the values that we as a university community subscribe to and cherish. Excellence, Innovation and Impact, Accountability, Care, Social Justice, and Sustainability will always shape and inform our institutional culture and provide a framework for our actions and decisions.

Our ultimate mission is to generate and impart new knowledge that impactfully supports societal development.

The future higher education landscape will be characterised by unprecedented change, brought about by technological advancement, increased internationalisation, and a renewed focus on the need to actively and sustainably advance societies around the globe.

It is a future we are boldly and confidently approaching.

Because we are preparing for it today.

RESEARCH AT THE UFS

The University of the Free State (UFS) has seen significant growth and impact in its research portfolio over the past decade. Even during the challenging times of the pandemic, the university's research remained strong and continued to advance, embracing new and different engagements. Notably, researchers have made substantial contributions beyond the institution's boundaries, with many joining international and national groups in the fight against the COVID-19 virus. Established and new partnerships have played a crucial role in seeking solutions not only to the pandemic, but also to overcoming constraints on the university's core business.

The UFS has also made major investments in postgraduate education, attracting the best honours, master's, and doctoral students from across the continent and worldwide. Efforts include research capacitation and tuition assistance for qualifying postgraduate students, underscoring the commitment to supporting postgraduate education.

The university's Centre for Graduate Support (CGS) plays a pivotal role in providing comprehensive support to postgraduate students, offering opportunities for research skills development through workshops and related events. These initiatives cover various critical areas, including writing skills, research methods, information management, ethical practices, research supervision, project management, theoretical application, intellectual property and legislation, and career development. Postgraduate students are supported, mentored, and supervised by leading professors who are committed to developing their competence and confidence as new researchers.

Research at the UFS revolves around being a research-led university, focusing on two international agendas: The Africa We Want and the Sustainable Development Goals. The university's research agenda is articulated in six themes, including local and regional socio-economic development, food security and land reform, health and well-being, human rights, social justice, reconciliation, and new scientific and industrial challenges. This interdisciplinary approach underpins research activities, ensuring excellence in research, scholarship, and innovation across the university's faculties.

In summary, the University of the Free State has demonstrated resilience, commitment to advancing research even amid challenges, and providing extensive support to postgraduate students to ensure their success.

RESEARCH ACHIEVEMENTS

Rated Researchers

The National Research Foundation's (NRF) rating system is a benchmarking system through which individuals who exemplify the highest standards of research, as well as those demonstrating strong potential as researchers, are identified by an extensive network of South African and international peer reviewers. Ratings are based on the quality and impact of recent research outputs (over an eight-year period).

Apart from research output, the quality and impact of research at tertiary institutions in South Africa are also reflected in the number of rated scientists identified through the NRF-rating system. Awards are valid for a period of six years.

The most distinguished categories are:

- A for researchers regarded as world leaders in their fields
- B for researchers who enjoy considerable international recognition by their peers
- C for researchers regarded as established in their field
- P for young researchers with exceptional potential who are likely to become future international leaders in their fields

APPLICATION PROCESS

Prospective students are advised to visit the department in your faculty of your chosen field to understand the specific application process, as requirements vary by faculty. Please note that certain departments mandate direct communication with the programme director prior to application, while others may request that you submit your application directly. It is essential to follow the respective guidelines to ensure a smooth application process.

Kindly take note of the following:

- Students transferring from other universities must include a certificate of conduct as well as a study record from their previous university with their applications. The closing date for students transferring from other universities may depend on the faculties.
- International postgraduate students must attach certified copies of degrees/certificates to their applications. Degrees/certificates that are not certified will delay the processing of applications. In addition, proof of application for a SAQA Certificate of Evaluation relating to all qualifications obtained outside South Africa must be attached.
- Students transferring from other universities are required to provide a certificate of conduct and a complete study record from their former institution when submitting their application. Please be aware that application deadlines may vary depending on the faculty to which you are applying. Adherence to these timelines is crucial for the evaluation of your application.

If you encounter any difficulties, please do not hesitate to contact us at postgradmarketing@ufs.ac.za for immediate assistance. We are here to ensure a smooth and efficient experience for you.

International postgraduate applicants are mandated to submit certified copies of their degrees/certificates alongside their applications. Moreover, we require international applicants to include proof of their application for a SAQA (South African Qualifications Authority) Certificate of Evaluation for all qualifications earned outside of South Africa. This step is vital for the assessment of your international qualifications and should be completed without delay to ensure a smooth application process.

International students will additionally receive a letter from the Office for International Affairs, which serves as a supporting document for your study visa application. Visit the South African embassy/consulate/high commission in your home country with the above letters, as well as your passport, to apply for your visa. Please be advised that your study-permit application can take more than six weeks to be finalised. Please contact the Office for International Affairs should you experience challenges or delays with the visa application process.

Comprehensive information on the visa application process is available in the International Student Guide, which you can download at:

APPLICATION AND ADMISSION OF INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

HOUSING AND RESIDENCE AFFAIRS

POSTGRADUATE STUDENT ACCOMMODATION ON CAMPUS

On-campus accommodation

Postgraduate on-campus accommodation forms an integral part of campus life, as it not only offers our postgraduate students a safe, academically conducive, and universally accessible living environment, but it also creates and embraces the continued development of a postgraduate living and learning community. Thus, our main purpose as Housing and Residence Affairs is to offer a variety of on-campus accommodation for our postgraduate students through our application process, which our postgraduate students are required to follow.

For more information on accommodation for postgraduate students offered by our Housing and Residence Affairs office, kindly use the below details to contact our offices on all three UFS campuses:

Accredited off-campus accommodation

The Housing and Residence Affairs office has an Off-Campus Accommodation office, which coordinates, regulates, and assists with the accreditation of all off-campus accommodation. The safety and living conditions of our postgraduate students are of great importance. Accredited off-campus student accommodation contributes significantly to the success of the UFS. Thus, accredited off-campus accommodation – accredited in terms of our office's set requirements – is pivotal for students to be successful in their studies. Hence, the accreditation process contains a list of primary requirements, drafted with the cognisance of the Mangaung Metropolitan Municipality in terms of off-campus accommodation that private providers must adhere to in order to be accredited by the university. The requirements are in line with the Policy on the Minimum Norms and Standards for Student Housing at Public Universities (Government Gazette 39238, dated 29 September 2015).

LIABILITIES

Accidents

As the university only insures its own risks, it cannot be held liable for accidents that happen to students. It is therefore recommended that students take out personal accident insurance.

Damage to students' personal possessions

The university cannot be held liable for loss or damage to students' personal possessions. Residence students also leave their possessions at their own risk in the residences during the holidays. It is therefore recommended that students insure their possessions. Protect yourself and the property of the university. Any damage and/or theft must be reported to the Protection Services Division. Distinguish between fun and crime and respect other people's property.

Vehicles on campus

It is recommended that students keeping vehicles on campus should take out SASRIA (riot insurance). All students and members of the public who wish to use the roads on campus should purchase an access disk issued by the Protection Services Division of the university. The disc must be displayed on the windscreen.

If you do not have an access permit, you could receive a traffic fine. People using the roads on the university campus or parking on the campus do so at their own risk and the university does not accept responsibility for any accident, loss, or damage. Any damage or theft must be reported to the Security Services Division.
