Against the background of our mission to be a dynamic, innovative, and quality-driven faculty, we cover a diverse academic spectrum, from public and private sector management to specialised training for accountants at both undergraduate and postgraduate level, and we aim to provide relevant, market-driven capacity and competence through, inter alia, research.

The development of research is crucial for the mission of the faculty and the university, namely excellence in teaching, applied research, and our contribution to social and economic development in society. All of this is founded on the creation, development, and application of knowledge – the very essence of research, discovery, and creativity. Taking cognisance of this, the Faculty of Economic and Management Sciences accepts the challenge to be relevant, yet different in a highly competitive local and global society.

So, join us in this endeavour and become part of a winning team. Please contact the faculty and we will assist you in making the right choice!

The UFS makes every effort to ensure that the information provided in this faculty programme booklet is accurate and up to date at the time of going to press. However, it may be necessary for the UFS to make some changes to the information presented in the faculty programme booklet following publication – for example, where it is necessary to reflect changes in policy, practice or theory, or if an accrediting body necessitates requirements to be amended. Furthermore, certain programmes may only be offered if there are a sufficient number of applicants.

PROGRAMMES IN PRIVATE SECTOR MANAGEMENT

Qualifications in Private Sector Management are offered in various fields of specialisation. All of these are accommodated within the Bachelor of Commerce (BCom) degree. This is a highly acclaimed and comprehensive basic degree in management and is aimed at careers in the fields of Economics and Management, particularly in the private sector, academic careers at universities and universities of technology, as well as teaching.

The Department of Economics and Finance has a proud history of UFS graduates accepted into the South African Reserve Bank's Graduate Development Programme. Several of our students have finished top of the class in the past five years.

Our graduates are employed by major local and international banks, the JSE, National Treasury, and the South African Reserve Bank.

A study done by Glacier (Sanlam) in 2018 on the performance of South African fund managers, revealed that the top performing fund managers over a running average of five years are former undergraduate students from the Department of Economics and Finance. In an attempt to understand South Africa's fund managers, the study found that although 2% of the top-performing fund managers hailed from the UFS, "the highest average performance over five years [for all fund managers] was generated by fund managers who attended the UFS [of 13,25%]". The Department of Economics and Finance contributes some of the best-trained graduates to the overall pool of fund managers. This confirms that the theoretical and practical training offered by the Department of Economics and Finance are exceptionally high.

Possible career opportunities: Banking sector, financial institutions, economist, economic forecaster, general management, legal adviser or attorney at a financial institution, marketing analyst, sales and marketing, market researcher, public relations, labour relations.
