ABOUT THE UFS

The University of the Free State (UFS) has a proud history as one of the oldest institutions of higher education in South Africa. It opened its doors in Bloemfontein in 1904 as the Grey University College, with six students in the Humanities. Today it is a multi-campus institution, with two diverse campuses in Bloemfontein and one in Qwaqwa in the scenic Eastern Free State, accommodating more than 40 000 students in its seven faculties (Economic and Management Sciences, Education, Health Sciences, the Humanities, Law, Natural and Agricultural Sciences, Theology and Religion), with an increasing number of international students and associates, and an ever-widening scope of active involvement in and contribution to its surrounding communities.

For the past 119 years, the UFS has been delivering quality graduates who have made their mark in various sectors. What sets the institution apart is its holistic student support initiatives, enabling it to achieve some of the highest success rates in the country. Delivering students who are in high demand in the global job market remains a top priority. An established network of industry partners and close collaboration with the public and private sectors, as well as a continuous process of transformation and curriculum renewal, dovetail to produce highly employable graduates.

UFS research efforts are driven by dedicated scholars, some of whom are international leaders in their fields, with industry and social impact and real-world application.

Through the principle of engaged scholarship, the UFS responds to societal needs by using its scholarly and professional expertise with an intentional public purpose and benefit.

The UFS is an institution that goes all out to provide its students and staff with an outstanding university experience. Everything the institution does is rooted in its values of excellence, innovation and impact, accountability, care, social justice, and sustainability.

The UFS aspires to be a research-led, student-centred, and regionally engaged university that contributes to development and social justice through the production of globally competitive graduates and knowledge. Our Vision 130 is an elaboration of our strategic intent to reposition the university for 2034, when we will commemorate our 130th anniversary.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE UFS CREST OVER MORE THAN A CENTURY

1904

Up to 1935, the same coat of arms was used as the Grey College School.

1935

By 1935, with the name change to University College of the Orange Free State, the coat of arms fell into disuse, especially among students.

1947

In 1947, an agreement between management and students led to the new motto Per Fidem ad Sapientiam (Through faith to wisdom).

1950

In 1952, it was changed to In Deo Sapientiae Lux (In God is the light of wisdom). The traditional orange, white and blue, linking the UFS to the South African national colours, changed in the late 1990s.

The orange was replaced by cherry red.

The academic brand - the historic University of the Free State crest that has been the symbol of the university since 1952, has evolved to embrace the aesthetic expectations of the stakeholders.

The shape of the traditional academic shield has been simplified and contemporised. Much of the symbolism of the crest remains intact, acknowledging the location of the UFS brand as one of the country's premier institutions of higher education, with a proud history of academic excellence and an ever-evolving, vibrant culture.

MESSAGE FROM THE RECTOR AND VICE-CHANCELLOR | PROF FW PETERSEN

Welcome to the graduation ceremony of the University of the Free State (UFS).

Today is a special day indeed. Few events and occasions hold as much significance as your graduation. This day is just as important for those who have supported you along the way. Many of you had to overcome a lot during your journey to get here today. Many of you are the first in your families to reach this milestone. You have earned this moment and you should be extremely proud. Always acknowledge and recognise the significance of your achievements as you transition from being a University of the Free State (UFS) student to a UFS graduate.

Graduands, you have had the honour of studying at an institution that commands a track record that is on par with well-regarded national peers, as reflected in the 2023 Times Higher Education World University and Impact Rankings. Sufficient evidence indicates that higher education has the potential to function as an agent of change and a means of serving the greater good. Although the mission of our university has always been to equip you with knowledge and skills needed to make a difference in your field of study, we are also mindful that values are as important for you to make a difference in your communities.

The UFS places great emphasis on ensuring that students and staff have an outstanding university experience. In our pursuit of excellence, we are proud that our environment is conducive for intellect and knowledge to flourish. As such, our values of excellence, innovation and impact, accountability, care, social justice, and sustainability are embedded in all activities across the institution.

Graduands, irrespective of what you undertake in the future, remember to pursue your passion, and continuously have the desire to make a difference in the lives of others. Surround yourself with real people in real communities, while inculcating kindness, empathy, passion, and awareness of the real issues. If you want to tackle the unfinished goals of this country and create a better world – build bridges, remain morally astute, and grow your coalitions. Life can be challenging if you are on your own – however, great results can be achieved if you work as a collective.

It is up to you to align yourself with those who have a common cause, heal the divisions that keep us separated, and carry along those who have been left out and are struggling.

Congratulations to all our graduands. May you have continued success in all your endeavours!

GUEST SPEAKER

MR KOPUNG RALIKONTSANE

Mr Kopung Ralikontsane is the Director General and former HOD for the Department of Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs. He comes from a firm and all-inclusive background of teaching, business, and socio-economic development. Having trained as a teacher in his early years and progressing to a degree in Commerce with Business Economics, Industrial Law, and Industrial Psychology as his majors, he was well prepared for his active role in socio-economic and political issues of development. His postgraduate studies include an honours degree in Industrial Psychology from the University of the North, and a Master of Management Degree in Local Governance and Development from the University of Witwatersrand, where he studied core local government subjects such as Political Economy of Infrastructure Development and Public Investment, Managing Urbanisation and Sustainable Development, and Comparative Local Government and Decentralisation.

His dissertation titled, The Implementation of Secure Residential Tenure in the Rural Areas of Thaba Nchu, was to entrench him in the field of local government and development. He worked as a teacher and then joined various organisations, including SALGA Free State, FRELOGA, the then Department of Local Government and Housing, and the Mangaung Local Government in various management positions in local government and socio-economic development-related fields.

Since his student days, Mr Ralikontsane has occupied various leadership positions, and has always been involved in community development. This passion for development saw him attend various international conferences and seminars on local government and development-related matters throughout his career. Some of these include Local Development Administration for the Republic of South Africa in Japan; Development and Planning in Cities, which he attended in Thailand; the Cities for Climate Protection Conference in Mexico; and the Co-operation between Spheres of Government conference in Canada.

Having been in government for more than 20 years, Mr Ralikontsane has proven to be a passionate and committed leader whose drive towards development sees him employ his skills to effectively contribute to the socio-economic development and overall improvement in the lives of the people of the Free State. Through his participation in various national fora, he shares his experience and expertise throughout the country, thus contributing to the national developmental agenda.

DOCTORAL DEGREES

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY WITH SPECIALISATION IN EDUCATION MANAGEMENT AND LEADERSHIP

KHOARANE, Khoarane Jeremiah

Khoarane Jeremiah Khoarane was born in 1977 at Maseru District of Lesotho. He obtained Cambridge Overseas School Certificate (C.O.S.C) at St Barnabas High School in 1999. From 2001 to 2004. He enrolled and completed Diploma in business management at the National University of Lesotho. He furthered his studies at the University of South Africa (UNISA) and obtained a B. Tech management in 2009, PGCE in 2010, and a B.Ed Honours in 2015. In 2016 he enrolled with the University of the Free State (UFS) and obtained Master's specializing in Leadership and Management. He registered for Ph.D in 2019 with the same university. He is a deputy principal at Boqate High School in Lesotho.

With his thesis titled, EXPLORING THE PRACTICES OF SCHOOL PRINCIPALS IN SERVANT LEADERSHIP, the candidate contributes to the scholarship of Education Leadership and management with a focus on servant leadership. In doing so, the candidate located the study within an interpretive paradigm and used a qualitative approach which enabled data generation through interviews and observation. Two principals and 16 teachers served as participants in this study. The study used a two-pronged theoretical framework consisting of servant leadership theory and Cultural Historical Activity Theory. The findings suggest that one core business of servant leadership is to serve. In practising servant leadership, the school principals served internal and external stakeholders. The internal stakeholders included teachers and learners. Teachers were served by increasing their morale, empowering them, and promoting peace and stability in school. Learners were served by enhancing their morale and motivation.

Supervisor: Dr SD Makhasane

TENHA, John

John Tenha holds a Certificate in Education from Mutare Teachers' College, a Diploma in Labour Relations and a Higher Diploma in Human Resources Management both from the Institute of Personnel Management of Zimbabwe and an Advanced Diploma in Education from Morgan Zintec College. He also holds a Bachelor of Education in Educational Administration, Planning and Policy Studies, and a Master of Business Administration, all from Zimbabwe Open University and a Master of Education in Educational Management degree from Midlands State University. He started his career as a teacher then a human resources officer, a faculty administrator and now a lecturer.

With his thesis titled, EXPLORING DISTRIBUTED INSTRUCTIONAL LEADERSHIP PRACTICES IN HIGH PERFORMING ZIMBABWEAN PRIMARY SCHOOLS, the candidate contributes to scholarship on instructional and distributed leadership. Using a qualitative research approach and multiple case study research design, Tenha selected twelve participants from high performing primary schools in Zimbabwe to examine if and how school principals enacted distributed instructional leadership practice for improved school performance. The study concludes that while visioning schools was a key activity of instructional leadership in the schools, the practice of collaborative leading among the principals, teachers, and the school community in coming up with school visions and using them as guiding pillars was of greater importance. Managing instruction was prioritised by the principals who adopted a distributed leadership approach to improve their school performance. The study proposes the replacement of the heroic instructional leadership practices by principals with distributed instructional leadership which incorporates collaborative activities in schools.

The study took article route where 2 out of the 3 required publishable articles has been published; with the following findings; The study discovered that lack of preparation from both lecturer and students, the use of a teacher-centred approach, difficulty in understanding the English language, teaching workload, large class size, student background and tribalism were the major challenges facing pre-service teachers' classroom participation in a rurally located university in South Africa. THE SEANAMARENA THE TRADITIONAL BASOTHO BLANKET

The Main Procession Graduation Gowns – embroidered with rich diversity

South Africa, and the Free State in particular, has a long-standing friendship with our neighbouring country, Lesotho.

Through a shared history, we have become co-creators of our futures. For this reason, the UFS decided to incorporate our tradition with that of the Basotho in the design of our Main Procession graduation gowns.

The gowns are inspired by the Seanamarena – the traditional Basotho blanket. The different patterns on the Seanamarena indicate the status one holds in the Basotho nation or reflect the occasion being celebrated. Keeping the Seanamarena pattern in mind, we combined our traditional academic designs with that of the Basotho nation.

YOKE PATTERNS

Yoke pattern for the Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor

This Seanamarena pattern is an interpretation of a design used exclusively for the king and chiefs – which means 'to swear by the king'. This blanket has the highest status of all Basotho blankets.

Yoke pattern for the Chairperson of the Council

This Seanamarena Victorian crest motif appeared after the visit of the Prince of Wales to Lesotho in 1925, which made a profound impression on the local people. Customers refer to this blanket as 'lesiba' – meaning feathers – when buying it.

Yoke pattern for the Vice-Rector

This Seanamarena Poone design symbolises good crops, wealth, and fertility. The Poone is given as a present to honour an important visitor.

Yoke pattern for Registrar

The same Seanamarena Poone design used for the Vice-Rector applies to the Registrar, with some slight design and colour alterations.

The Deans wear gowns made in the colours of the faculties, or others which indicate the office they hold.
