Follow the steps provided by NSFAS.

3. Do I have to pay for registration if my NSFAS funds were approved?

No, you do not have to pay for registration if your NSFAS funds are approved. Please note that Financial Aid will allocate your NSFAS funding on the UFS system, which will lift the registration pre-payment block for you to register without making any payment. Once the allocation is done, you will receive an SMS message to notify you.

4. I am funded by NSFAS – what should I do next?

The Financial Aid office at the UFS requests complete funded lists from NSFAS on a regular basis. Validation checks are done and a NSFAS allocation is made to qualifying students on the UFS system. Once the allocation is made, Financial Aid will inform the students via an SMS message. Please note that approximately five hours after allocation of the NSFAS funds, the registration prepayment block will lift automatically. You are now ready to register.

5. I am a NSFAS-funded student but did not receive an SMS from Financial Aid to confirm that my allocation was done. What should I do if I still need to register?

- Please be patient.
- Make sure that your cell phone number is correct on the University's system. If you need to correct your number, please visit Student Academic Services.
- However, if your funding has been approved by NSFAS for 2 weeks and you have not received the SMS, please visit the Financial Aid station/help desk.

6. I did not receive the NSFAS allocation SMS from the UFS, and the period for registration given to me when accepting the offer for admission has passed. Can I still register?

Please continue with online registration once you have received the SMS confirming your allocation.

7. I am a NSFAS student, and I have outstanding fees. Will I be allowed to register?

The university is aware of your situation and will take the amount payable by NSFAS into consideration when you want to register. Please note that you will have to contact the Student Finance division.

8. I paid my own registration fees and received NSFAS thereafter. Can I get a refund?

Yes. However, you will have to apply for a refund. Financial Aid will communicate to all NSFAS students when refund requests may be submitted for registration fees paid. Any fees not paid by NSFAS (for example, fines, doctor's fees, etc.) will be deducted from the amount paid and only the balance will be refunded. All refund requests for NSFAS students must be submitted to Financial Aid. Please note that a closing date for the submission of refund requests will be applicable.

9. When will I receive my first NSFAS allowances?

NSFAS allowances will be paid 5 business days after receiving payment from NSFAS over a period of 10 months. Please note that due to several variables a specific date for payment cannot be provided. NSFAS allowance payment are subject to payment received from NSFAS.

10. What NSFAS allowances do I qualify for?

- Book allowance
- Meal allowance
- Transport allowance
- Private accommodation

11. How will NSFAS allowances be paid?

NSFAS book and meal allowances will be paid in cash to the student via the Fundi system. Once the allowances are debited to your student class fee account, you will receive an SMS message from Fundi to upload your banking details. Fundi will confirm your banking details and payment will follow.

Please note that no payments will be made to a third party.

You only must upload your banking details once. If you experience any problems with regards to the upload of your banking details, please contact Fundi at +27 8 60 55 55 44.

NSFAS private accommodation allowance will be paid to the landlord.

15. How will the accredited private accommodation work?

If your landlord is not accredited, please refer him/her to the Department of Housing and Residence Affairs. No payments will be made to landlords who are not accredited.

16. Will NSFAS pay all my fees?

NSFAS does not pay for the following:

- Outstanding balances
- Fines
- Doctor's fees
- Breakage costs
- Fridge rental, etc.

17. I am funded by NSFAS but will study a course that is not funded by NSFAS. What should I do?

Your NSFAS funding is subject to you registering for a NSFAS-funded course. If you want to register for a course that is not funded by NSFAS, you will be unfunded.

If you want to register for a course that is not funded by NSFAS, you will have to find another source of funding and pay your own registration fees.

Courses not funded by NSFAS is for example bridging courses such as University Access Programmes / University Preparation Programmes, Postgraduate studies, etc.

Please note that NSFAS-funded students who are registered or would like to register for courses not funded by NSFAS, will be handled as follows:

- Students must make the minimum required registration payment to register.
- NSFAS funding for students will be cancelled or not allocated if they are registered or open for courses not funded by NSFAS.
- If students have registered with NSFAS funding, they will be deregistered and requested to make the minimum payment before being registered again.

18. When will my landlord receive my private accommodation payment?

The payment of all private accommodation allowance will be paid directly to private accommodation service providers.

You must apply online for your private accommodation. It is compulsory to upload your rental agreement, proof of home address, affidavit from landlord confirming that you are not immediate family members and that the landlord is not a UFS staff member.

If your private accommodation application is approved by the 23rd of a month your landlord will receive payment from your move in date up to date during the first week of the following month and thereafter your landlord will receive monthly payments until November.

19. How will I know if my private accommodation application status has changed?

You will immediately receive an email on your ufs4life email address when your status change.

20. What should I do if my private accommodation application is incomplete?

Please log in on your Student Self Service. The reasons for your incomplete application will be listed under your private accommodation application. Please correct the application and resubmit. Please do not resubmit if the application was not corrected. Please visit the website for clear explanations on the reasons for incomplete applications if you are unsure what is expected from you.

Please note that no payment will be made before your private accommodation application is approved.

21. When is the closing date for NSFAS private accommodation applications?

The closing date for applications for private accommodation will be confirmed soon.

22. I qualify for NSFAS transport allowance. What do I do to receive this allowance?
