

Advanced grammar for postgraduates

This online short course builds on basic grammar concepts explained in the Basics of Grammar for Postgraduate Students course. The various units focus on the analysis, evaluation, and creation criteria of Bloom's taxonomy (cf. Anderson & Krathwohl, 2001). The purpose of this short course is to enable postgraduate students to write with clarity, accuracy, and precision to produce well-argued, logically structured academic texts across various disciplines.

Units

- Writing concise sentences.
- Paragraph structure.
- Logic and reasoning.
- Evaluating, citing and reporting sources.
- Transitional phases.
- Cohesion and coherence.
