The following elements will be discussed and applied.

(Each session will include an interactive activity).

- The basic structure of a grant proposal (i.e., how to get out of the 'starting blocks')
- Explanation of grant funding peer review
- How to market your research and strengthen your researcher profile
- Why grant proposals fail
- Research impact
- Common core components of grant proposals
- The budget
- Is all research fundable (and where to look for funding)?

Course material will only be provided to participants who attend the full workshop.
