

Biography

Munyaradzi Mushonga (PhD) is Programme Director for the Africa Studies Programme in the Centre for Gender and Africa Studies at the University of the Free State and a member of the UFS Decolonisation Engagement Group of Senate. He is the inaugural Global Academic Director (GAD) for the Decolonial International Network (DIN), a network and space for academics, researchers, scholars, and activists committed to decolonial work. Munyaradzi Mushonga is an interdisciplinary decolonial scholar and researcher who believes that another knowledge and another world civilisation are possible. His decolonial scholarship and activism are underpinned by the question: what are the things that we cannot know because of what we know?
