1. TITLE

Library and Information Services Policy

2. PREAMBLE/BACKGROUND

It is the policy of the UFS Library and Information Services (UFS LIS) to put policies and procedures in place for the administration and management of the LIS. UFS LIS serves as one of the primary support services of the university. It is mandated with acquiring worldwide information resources that satisfy the primary information needs of the university, which are the teaching, learning and research needs. UFS LIS also has a responsibility of assisting the university in developing well-rounded students by availing information that satisfy the secondary information needs of clients such as recreational, social, economical (entrepreneurial), emotional, environmental, political and spiritual needs of library clients. It further serves as a collector and preserver of rare and special collections.

It is the intention of UFS LIS to provide access to information in different formats, viz. print (books, newspapers, magazines, and journals), non-print (compact disks, digital video disks) and electronic/virtual (e-books, e-journals). In responding to the technological developments that enhance service delivery, UFS LIS intends to revitalize its resources, products, services and physical infrastructure to encompass its virtual presence and thus an increased access to relevant services remotely. There will be an increased dependence on appropriate ICT infrastructure, relevant staff skills, and i-access clients training and development.

UFS LIS, still entrenched in the fundamental principles of collection, organization and dissemination of information, seeks to embrace the following:

- Become a vibrant centre of information/knowledge centre;
- Be client centred;
- Create information commons with internet portals;
- Provide adequacy of access to information (shift from ownership to access/ i-access paradigm);
- Provide immediate services (reduced turnaround time to services); and
- Embrace social interaction networks.
